Your Accommodations:

Please note that these are our preferred accommodations, but we are happy to propose alternative arrangements:

Casa Fuster/Barcelona: Located in a commanding position at the top of the fashionable Passeig de Gracia in the L'Eixample district, Casa Fuster is CORK & TEE's preferred five-star hotel property in Barcelona. The most expensive private home in Barcelona when it was completed in 1911, Casa Fuster features a modernist exterior typical of the period and a more contemporary, yet classic interior. In our view, there is no other five-star property in Barcelona that is as emblematic of the spirit of the Catalonian capital. Make sure to enjoy the hotel terrace, which offers one of the finest views of the city. The 96-room property is a member of The Leading Small Hotels of the World consortium. <http://www.hotelcasafuster.com/>

Lapa Palace/Lisbon: Enter the doors of this stately, 19th-century building and you truly feel like you have entered the home of a nobleman. Lapa Palace is perched on a hilltop in the quiet diplomatic overlooking the Tagus River, yet it is close to the heart of Lisbon. Its peaceful garden, with centuries-old trees, streams and waterfalls, provides a relaxing oasis. The property's classic styling and excellent service make it a great crowd pleaser. One would never think that there are 109 rooms here. <http://www.lapapalace.com>

Your Championship Golf Courses:

Santana Golf & Country Club: A relative newcomer to the Costa del Sol golf scene, Santana Golf blends a beautiful setting, quality design and splendid conditioning to create a grand golf experience. Set in an old avocado plantation, this Cabell Robinson design is easily walkable, employs water hazards and bunkers prudently and offers breathtaking views of the surrounding mountains and the Mediterranean. The par-72, 7,000-yard course offers four sets of tees so that the player can bite off as much or as little as he or she desires of this wonderfully-diverse layout. If you are in the Costa del Sol, experience Santana while it is young and relatively undiscovered. No handicap limits. www.santanagolf.com

Valderrama: Valderrama is literally a legend in mainland Europe, having hosted the 1997 Ryder Cup, the World Golf Championship and countless Volvo Masters tournaments. This Robert Trent Jones, Sr. gem is a must-play for the serious golf enthusiast touring the Costa del Sol and definitely is worth a journey. One can easily be distracted by the spectacular scenery and mesmerizing cork oaks that line the fairways, but this course demands your undivided attention—the rough is particularly unforgiving. Measure yourself against the best players in the world as you tackle the infamous 17th. European golf at its very best! Maximum handicap: 24 Men; 36 Women. www.valderrama.com

Arcos Gardens Golf & Country Club: Arcos is a residential/resort development by Landmark, a U.S. firm with a lot of experience developing top-notch golf properties. The five-year-old course has matured nicely. The practice facility is also terrific, and the property is the winter home of the Swedish Golf Federation and the English Golf Union. We recommend including this course in your Andalusian golf program. www.arcosgardens.com/

Oceanico Old/Vilamoura: The oldest of the Oceanico golf properties, Oceanico Old (a.k.a. Vilamoura/the Old Course) was constructed in 1969 by Frank Pennink and has been consistently refurbished over the years; however, it has not lost its original and classic parkland charm. The many trees that border the fairway corridors are definitely in play, the rolling landscape challenges your club selection and the undulating greens test your short game, but all the difficulties are mitigated by meticulous grooming. Add to all that the soothing views of the surrounding hills. We love this property. Maximum Handicap: 24 Men; 28 Women. www.oceanicogolf.com/
